10 January 2019

Dear Parents/Carers

As you know, our new Creative Curriculum topic is called Darwin's Delights, focussing on the theory of evolution.

A planned activity is to observe some dead animal specimens, including rats and mice. There will be no dissection involved and all animals will be in a sealed plastic bag, so that children will not handle them directly.

Of course, the activity will be delivered sensitively and all health and safety procedures will be adhered to carefully.

We will be doing this activity next week. Please inform me in writing by Monday 14 January 2019 if you DO NOT wish your child to participate.

Kind regards

Miss Pennington/Miss Morris
